Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371(c) of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

The changes made to 35 U.S.C. 102(e) by the American Inventors Protection Act of 1999 (AIPA) do not apply to the examination of this application as the application being examined was not (1) filed on or after November 29, 2000, or (2) voluntarily published under 35 U.S.C. 122(b). Therefore, this application is examined under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) prior to the amendment by the AIPA (pre-AIPA 35 U.S.C. 102(e)).

1. Claims 17-22 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being clearly anticipated by Waldman (5311175).

Waldman teaches (Figure 1; column 3 under Objectives and Summary of the Invention) a device with a human-machine interface, which detects a user manifestation (1-3, 1-4). If a user confirmation of the control organ is not detected within a predetermined time after the original manifestation, i.e. time dependent (col. 8 lines 30-50 (Hold-Down); col. 13 lines 22-31), then information is provided by a temporarily indication to the user.

Regarding claim 18, the indicated information can be help information (see col. 9 lines 30-50).

Regarding claims 19 and 22, the confirmation manifestation is a manual actuation (press).

Regarding claim 21, the indication information can be presented using an audible message, see col. 9 lines 4-29.

Double Patenting

2. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

3. Claims 17-22 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-21 of U.S. Patent No. 5844500.

Claims 17-22 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claim 1 of U.S. Patent No. 5923267.

Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because the currently used terms such as manifestation and confirmation are broader in scope and include coverage to the previously patented such as impending action. Therefore, the use of a system that provides an audible indication in response to manifestation is an obvious variation of providing an audible indication in response to impending action.
